STATE OF WISCONSIN

DA Case No.:2011ML000700

Plaintiff,

vs.

Complaining Witness:

Haughton, Radcliffe
6604 W Glenbrook Rd
Brown Deer, WI 53233
DOB: 12/17/1966

Court Case No.:

Defendant,

THE ABOVE NAMED COMPLAINING WITNESS BEING DULY SWORN, ON INFORMATION AND BELIEF STATES THAT:

Count 1: DISORDERLY CONDUCT, DOMESTIC ABUSE

The above-named defendant on or about Saturday, January 08, 2011, at 6604 West Glenbrook Rd, in the Village of Brown Deer, Milwaukee County, Wisconsin, while in a private or public place, did engage in violent, abusive, unreasonably loud, profane, boisterous, or otherwise disorderly conduct, under circumstances in which such conduct tended to provoke a disturbance, contrary to sec. 947.01, 939.51(3)(b), 968.075(1)(a) Wis. Stats.

Upon conviction for this offense, a Class B Misdemeanor, the defendant may be fined not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000), or imprisoned not more than ninety (90) days, or both.

And further, invoking the provisions of sec. 968.075(1)(a) Wis. Stats., because this charge is an act of domestic abuse, costs upon conviction would include the domestic abuse assessment imposed under sec. 973.055(1) Wis. Stats.

PROBABLE CAUSE:

I am a Brown Deer Police Officer and base this complaint on the statements of Zina Radcliffe, who reports as follows: on Saturday night, January 8, 2011, her husband, Radcliffe Haughton, became upset at their residence at 6604 West Glenbrook Road, in the Village of Brown Deer, County of Milwaukee, State of Wisconsin. Radcliffe Haughton threw his wife's clothes and bedding in the yard and on his wife's vehicle. Radcliffe Haughton also poured tomato juice on his wife's vehicle.

I also base this complaint on the statements of Brown Deer Police Officer Jill Zeise, who reports as follows: At the same time and place, when officers responded to Zina's emergency call, Radcliffe Haughton refused to speak with them and refused to exit his home. Using a bull horn, Brown Deer Police Lieutenant Schmitz told Radcliffe Haughton to come out of his house because he was under arrest for a domestic violence incident. The defendant did not come out. Officers tried calling the defendant. But they found that the defendant had thrown his telephone into the yard.

Radcliffe Haughton stood in the window between the garage and living room. He slid open the curtains. The defendant pointed a long-barreled black object out the window. He aimed this long-barreled object at Zina Haughton, who stood three feet away from officers outside. The defendant then moved to a bay window, and slightly opened the curtain.

Zina Houghton reported to Officer Zeise that the defendant had no guns. Brown Deer Police Officer Lucas Kuehne reported that, based on past contacts with the defendant, he knew Radcliffe Haughton was a former United States Marine. On this information, officers thought that the defendant may have indeed held a gun and knew how to use it.

Because of the defendant's actions, officers were forced to take cover and set up a perimeter around 6604 West Glenbrook Road. For approximately one hour, officers shut down traffic on the 6600 West Glenbrook Road. Neighbors were not allowed to access their own homes by the street; they had to cut through their backyard.

At some point during the stand-ff, Radcliffe Haughton again stood near a window near the front of the garage. He pushed open the curtains. He held an unidentified silver and black object in his hand. Officer Zeise and Lt. Schmitz thought the object was a gun. Lt. Schmitz ordered Radcliffe to drop what was in his hand. Radcliffe did not.

In total, the stand-off lasted approximately one-and-a-half hours. It ended peacefully when officers left the scene.
